Laké Eríe Wine Country
All wines start with grapes and all grapes start with “terroir,” or the dirt and climate in which the grapes are grown. The Laké Eríe region was carved out by glaciers that left behind soil ideal for growing grapes. Laké Eríe itself moderates the climate and makes it possible for grapes to grow here. Laké Eríe Wine County, formerly the Chautauqua Laké Eríe Wine Trail, is located in the largest grape-growing region east of the Rockies. It extends roughly 50 miles from Silver Creek, NY (Chautauqua County) to Harborscree, Pennsylvania (Erie County), and is home to over 22 commercial and estate wineries.

The Winíerees
The wineries in Laké Eríe Wine Country produce an abundant and diverse list of wines from very dry to sweet. These wines fall into four categories: fruity, native Labruscas; French-American; European Vinifera; dessert, ice and specialty wines.

Guidelines for Groups (of 8 or more) Visiting Wineries:
- Please make reservations well in advance, and call wineries if you know you are running late so they can adjust.
- Please schedule large groups on weekdays or in the afternoons on weekends, and please avoid wine-trail event weekends.
- Remember it is illegal for wineries to serve any intoxicated clients. Please behave so others in the winery can also have a good experience.

Special Guidelines for the Tour Operators (Buses and Limousines):
- Parking: In designated areas (if available) to avoid blocking the entrance or parking lot traffic.
- Be Considerate: It is illegal for customers to bring outside alcohol onto winery premises. It is not considered good business practice to serve customers who are intoxicated or under age. We expect drivers to be proactive in handling these behaviors and not drop off intoxicated individuals.
- Be Proactive: Inform parties and other clients in advance that they must conduct themselves in an appropriate manner.
- Take Care: Many wineries are on busy roads that are traveled at relatively high speeds. Drop off clients in a safe area close to each winery.
- Please: Do NOT provide alcohol in buses or limousines en route to wineries. Offer water instead.
- AND Lastly: Do NOT bring intoxicated or unruly clients to wineries. This only results in incidents and/or conflicts that will harm the businesses of both, wineries and tour operators. This will result in incidents and/or conflicts that will harm the businesses of both, wineries and tour operators. This will harm the businesses of both, wineries and tour operators.
